

INVITATION TO ARTS SOCIETY WALTON ON THE HILL

GRAND CHRISTMAS CLASSICS

FRIDAY 14 DECEMBER 2018, ROYAL FESTIVAL HALL

Following last year's successful visit, Chipstead Probus is returning to Royal Festival Hall for our Christmas outing – and has secured a sufficient allocation of good balcony seats to extend this invitation for Walton Arts Society to join us. It's an evening celebration hosted by Matt Baker from BBC TV (Countryfile, 1 Show etc) featuring over 200 performers in seasonal classics, festive readings and joyful song - crowned by a selection of carols for all.

Performers include London Concert Orchestra, Fanfare Trumpeters of the Coldstream Guards Band, and London Philharmonic Choir.

Their repertoire embraces O Holy Night, In the Bleak Midwinter, Silent Night, Sleigh Ride, The Nutcracker Suite, Twelve Days of Christmas plus audience carols.

We'll leave The Meads car park, High Road, Chipstead at 4 p.m. to allow good time for a meal at any of the establishments round Southbank Centre. For those who prefer to browse, or eat at lunchtime and then snack, there will be the seasonal Southbank Centre Food Market in the square adjoining the concert hall with what promises to be some excellent street food.

The concert concludes at 10 p.m. Our coach will be waiting nearby to return to The Meads.

The cost is £40 a person. Seats will be allocated in the order your form and cheque are received.

For Health and Safety reasons it is each participant's responsibility to decide the level of their capability before joining a Club activity.
